EUR/USD Extends Gains; 1.3200 Resistance
27 Dec 2010, 09:31

0831 GMT [Dow Jones] The EUR/USD extends gains to 1.3154 vs 1.3122 early in Asian trade as investors sell the greenback after its recent gains and buy the common currency on dips, says a trader with a local bank. "But volumes are very thin. We could see the euro touching 1.3200 in U.S. trade since there are no big news coming in today," the trader says. Still, he adds, the USD is likely to remain well supported during the course of the week on hopes of a better-than-expected U.S. jobs data and consumer confidence numbers later this week.
