

1. Run the set-up file.
2. When you get to the bit whereby it asks you to name the installation folder, change the default name to a unique name eg. InterTrader Version 1

3. Continue installation as usual.
4. When complete, look for the version in your usual saved place, normally Program Files.
5. Double click it to reveal folders - look for 'terminal'.

6. Right click and choose 'Rename'.
7. Rename to identify this particular version.
8. Once re-named, right click and choose 'Pin to Start Menu' or 'Create Shortcut'.

Done

- as long as you give each install a unique name, you can download, run and identify several instances of MT4 from the same broker. I don't know how this would affect EA's etc, so be careful and check carefully.
