Summary:

Trades: 3
Break Even: 1
Win: 1
Loss: 1
Net Gain: 0.1%

Synopsis:

I need to draw larger 61.8 zones in red, and if a smaller prz corresponds into it, I need to take the trade even if it only spikes into the smaller prz. In fact, merely spiking into the prz is probably good..... Also ive noticed that lots of trades th at wo uld've worked basically work instantly: instant gratification!

Therefore, I will draw 61.8 zone przs in red, smaller przs in burlywood, and supply/demand zones in blue. Also I will make sure I check the 15 minute timeframe on oanda and , using the zup indicator, determine potential turning points!

Anyways, I am definitely getting MUCH better! Also, I am now only going to focus on harmonics, price action, and supply/demand zones. I know, I jump around a lot, but this time I am going to just master these aspects, so there.....

One trade was not based on harmonics (break even trade), and also kept me out of a winning harmonic trade, because I didn't want to add to a loser.
