

Gold however moved a touch better... 60 day ADR is 18.33 points, today 43.51! Can anyone say holy shit!

Where were sellers found? HMM?

Zoomed out 1hr chart with 2 zones applied. Which 2? How about the 2 huge middle finger spikes seen on Mar 19th and April 4th (do those dates look familiar to anyone? Important UHV dates seen before?).

You can almost see the magic on the zoomed out chart but for those with bad or aging eyes like me I will zoom it in for everyone to truly enjoy the beauty that are the charts... Zoomed in enough to see mainly this weeks action as price approached and eventually hit that upper zones L on an increased volume up bar. The big move was seen today but the sellers started their BIZ-NAS yesterday. Down to the lower zone and we see buyers / profit taking to the tune of a 19ish point raise from the days low (yes 19 points as in more than the 60 day ADR!).

Now if you can't see the beauty in these charts your in the wrong business.

And with that I am thinking another retirement from posting may be in order.

Trade well.
