

Description

❖ The best time of day to trade

• Start:

11:00 AM

Greenwich (GMT)

• End:

20:00 PM

Greenwich (GMT)

❖ Important: Do not pay attention to the signals at a narrowing range market.

If you get signal in a position like above, it is very false signal

Please trade only in normal range!

➤ Just at this situation you should enter the trade

If you receive the signal after collapsing the price (1 or 2 candle) from the top of the band, it is very true signal. Like the bellow picture:

(We strongly suggest to try <https://alpari.com> for trading in binary options)

- Expiry time for binary options: 5 minute

First, you should open an account with a Forex broker who offers MetaTrader 4 using 5-digit/decimal pricing.

(We strongly suggest to try the <https://alpari.com> demo account (only Alpari-Demo not Alpari-ECN-Demo) for receive signals).

Indicator Parameters

Please do not change the default parameters.

- Warning
- The system only will notify you of a very good trading situation. When you receive a signal, you should be present and then scan the charts first. If conditions are favorable, you can enter the market. 10% of signals may not be true, so pay attention to the chart. If the conditions are matched, then you can enter a trade.

How can we understand?

Although only 10 percent of signals may be unsuccessful. If you want to be 100 percent successful, please pay attention to these tips:

When the market is in sideways, the bands are narrowed, while when the market is trending, the bands widen. In essence, Bollinger bands contract when there is less volatility in the market and expand when there is more volatility. The tightening bands are called "Bollinger Squeeze".

- Do not trade in Bollinger Band Squeeze!!!
- Do not trade in riding the bands!!!
- Do not trade in trend bands!!!
- Please trade only in range bands!!!
