Flat Ks still keeping price from moving on past the .8675 range on the Monthly. Chikou Span is below price helping keep the price pulled down along with the bearish crossover on the Ts/Ks. However the Ts is moving upward toward the Ks through the cloud indicating a possible crossover bullish. Unfortunately on the monthly this crossover may take months to happen which may mean we will be in this present range for a good period (Ts/Ks in cloud). I would suggest buying bottoms on lower TF's and selling before the highs of this range. Rinse and repeat

Weekly Candlestick Chart

Comment: .....

Weekly Charts showing the weak bullish Ts/Ks moving upward with the Ks lagging through the bearish cloud. We have the Chikou Span well above pricing for a bullish sentiment. Also the leading cloud is bullish making for an over moderately bullish weekly chart.

Daily Candlestick Chart

Comment: after last weeks ranging and the small bodied candlestick we have had a fight between the bulls and the bears with the bulls still in control for now. With a push from the Gold bugs we can continue the bullish trend, but with a tug down from the greenback supporters we can go the other way.

Trends
Major Trend (M)	Weak Bear
Median Trend (W)	Weak Bull
Minor Trend (D)	Bullish

Conclusion: Mixed bag on trends...i suggest only intraday short term trades for this pair to the bullish side. Wait until we get confirmation from these high timeframes to sync up better before taking any long term Ichi trades.
