

The Bankers Control The World

April 11, 2012

From a distance, it becomes apparent that the fundamental problem lies in politicians giving the reins of power to the entire global economy to a group of unelected central bankers. 🤔

Central banks are lenders of last resort for ~ banks!
Their primary concern is the stability and welfare of ~ banks!
They're a cartel of banks formed for the benefit of ~ banks!

Of course, it's not just any bank, it's the mega-banks, banks that are too big to fail!

Their competition, the local community banks, have been allowed to quietly go belly up with little fanfare, which increases the size of the TBTF mega-monsters.

Is it any wonder that every tactic they've used is to protect and bolster ~ banks? 🤔

I suppose it's no different than the democratic West electing lawyers (not known for their high moral standards) to run their governments! Lawyers are good at what? Arguing! 🤔

By contrast, in Communist/Capitalist China the majority of the ruling elite are ~ engineers!
Could this have something to do with why everything you pick up says "made in China" on it??? 🤔