EURJPY M1 +5PIPS SHORT

Reasons

- I had noticed that on M15 PA was making tower tops with notable volume. So I knew that we were on a bearish trend
- I entered on a break of the 200EMA with a red candle and notable volume

Nice scalps guys...as usual.. 😎

Thanks to ALL for helping to keep OUR THREAD focused on PVSRA scalping. So many threads die as they lose their main purposeful focus with unrelated posts.

Our focus will guarantee a long lasting and helpful thread for all to learn and be profitable.

Many traders fail as they jump from system to system never becoming proficient at any with a clear understanding how the FX market works...,, 🤔

Hello dreamers, it has been over a year since I posted in this thread. Recently I have been afforded the luxury of time, so now I can scalp again. I would like to share with you one of my favourite setups. It consists of a high-volume Bull candle followed closely by a high-volume Bear candle, or vice versa. I have included a screenshot from yesterday to illustrate. I trade USDJPY M1 from London open to New York close on an ECN low-spread broker. You gotta put in the hours if you want to succeed. Rules 1) Tight stops 2) Do not trade during news 3)...

Welcome back 😎 but you are using our old Sonic R obsolete indicators.

Our updated PVSRA indicators are in the paper clip and throughout our thread.

Quick UJ FIFO M1 trade entered by the PVSRA EA thread just thought I would give it a shot. Nice guy and great work and I wish him the best, but as we have found in the past years with PVSRA EA attempts none can replace or duplicate our PVSRA knowledge.....😓

I would not have opened manually that close to the new hour candle for one expecting a decent PA move either way.

This EA trade not based on our PVSRA FIFO style and ended with a loss although the entry was correct lacking trader knowledge understanding S & R and key levels as take profit levels.

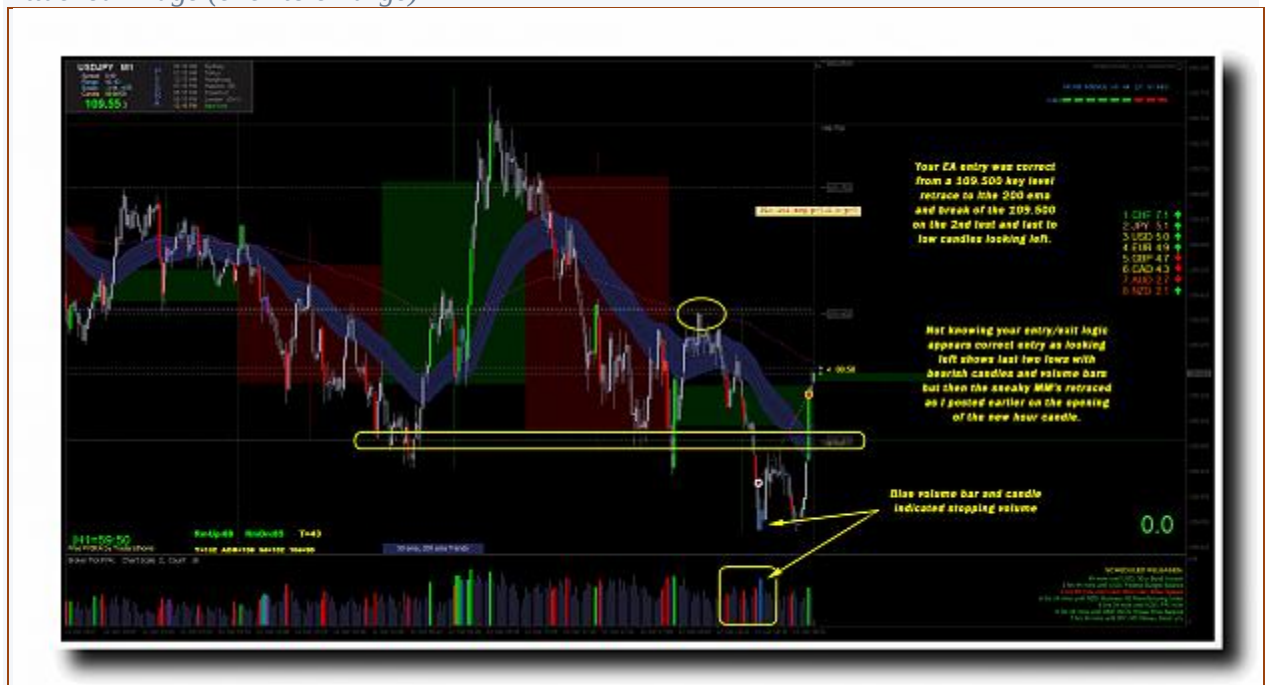

Of course no disrespect intended for the EA coding work...alawy103 has done a great job and more testing required ..

Nice coding alawy103 and thanks for the kind words.😓

Like Robs trade he posted earlier. Price got back above 117.600 with very little effort so could see it retesting the previous high of the wide spread, news release candle. Entered after a solid close above 117.600 and got my target.

Hi Guys, I am new here and I am glad I am. I have been glued to my screen in the last our hours after I stumbled on the PVSRA system. I have tried to drink in as much as I can starting from Tradeathone posts . But the screenshot do not make any meaning to me as I do not understand the indicators and trade setups for the system. I wish someone will graciously help to explain same to me. This will make my reading and participation more meaningful. But so far, I am very happy with the system and wish to learn more so that I can also make meaningful...

Please read the above post #8676 no short cuts to success.

TO THOSE INTERESTED IN PVSRA SCALPING;

Please take time to start from post #1 and scan through our thread prior to asking the same redundant questions that have been answered so many times in this thread and our old PVSRA thread (link provided at post #1)

Actually with over 8000 posts with excellent annotated charts and explanations right here in our thread it is easy to see and understand our scalping system.

Our entire thread was created for and is a PVSRA scalping text book. All is provided here FREE OF charge for those willing and dedicated to learn.

Thanks to our many successful traders giving their time freely for these posts, a trader interested in PVSRA scalping can learn quickly by observing and studying these posts even without the PDF's.

Thanks Cigarguy, I definitely agree that it's all here on the thread for those who wish to learn this style of trading. Many thanks to all who post on here.

A few points specific points that have helped me improve are: (I'm sure these have all be covered many times)

Focus on just a couple of currency pairs and get to know how they move as they all have different personalities and especially when you're learning it only makes it harder if you look at too many.

Watch the higher time frames for high volume reactions to S/R levels and jump on the back of those moves when you see and entry on the M1 chart.

And keep a trade diary taking screen shots. I even take screen shots of all the good trades I miss (of which there are many!) and document them as if it were a trade I took. I find this helps me cement in my mind the specific kind of setups I'm looking for in future.

Cheers!

Oli

Quick comment to answer some PM'S regarding auto EA traders,

Each trader/scalper must learn and understand how the FX market works. It is controlled and moved by MARKET MAKERS aka big money and banks. To trade WITH THE SMART MONEY requires trader management armed with market knowledge. There is no substitute for trade management and the required knowledge of how the market makers trade our key levels as support & resistance as areas for profit taking and possible retraces.

In the short term any system may work but eventually only traders that understand the market will survive as I have seen many traders come and fail through the years. This can be a difficult and expensive lesson learned the hard way by trial and error. 😞

Stay GREEN and learn to trade WITH THE SMART MONEY AS WE GRAB THEIR SHIRT TAILS AND GO ALONG FOR THE RIDE. 🚀🚀

Have a GREAT week end and many pips 😎

Hi Everybody, Thanks for this thread I am new here and wish to learn this trading method but i have a question; Do i have to go through 430 page to learn the method or there are some specific posts??

All start at post #1 reading the PDF'S and study the many posted charts with excellent explanations then it depends on each traders abilities to grasp our PVSRA scalping style.

Our entire thread is designed as a PVSRA scalping text book. As with every profession in life, some are fast learners and others are not. We can only provide the tools for all to learn. Each trader if they choose must take the initiative to learn.

Interesting.. 🤔

Most traders have little problems with entries but do with exits and that is why we set our EA to close at +/- 5 pips or at traders target based on levels as S and R... 😎

I will set my EA to close at 5 pips but turn it off if I see a good momentum run and then close as PA stalls or near a S & R level prior to a retrace. Each trader must decide what works for them.

Trading is not a one size fits all business.

Exactly and your mindset shows you have a solid plan....nice post 😎

I like a post that is informative when a trader explains their challenges and how they have devised a plan to overcome those issues that is helpful to ALL.

UJ M1 FIFO scalp +61 (+12.1 @ 5 lots) Only time this AM for one quick scalp due to outside business obligations but got a nice little MM sting 🐝🚀😄

After entry saw a bearish run forming so stopped our OrderOnChart entry EA and manual close as no substitute for trader management and expecting a retrace/profit taking at the 109.800 area as short term support... was also concerned at PA below RDH we cannot know and of course could go lower but somewhat risky at this time of day with LC and retraces expected with NY Session.....😎

No black box automatic system can replace the traders eyes and brains to manage their hard earned money.... 🤔

We don't need to be greedy as just stalking the pairs with high momentum and observing MM's trading our key levels as S & R and grab their shirt tails and go along for the ride. 🚀🚀

Quoting forexpairs

{quote} what is good sl tp for this system how about 8 pips sl and 5 pips tp?

There is no "one size fits all".

Each trader must set their own RR based on their account size and each trade may be different based on momentum.

I only set a emergency stop of about 20 pips in case of system issues and manage each trade watching like a hawk. Probably not good for all but been trading this style for years and works for me.

I stalk for high probability FIFO high momentum scalps that with momentum will hit my take profit (usually key levels) targets in minutes if not seconds. If momentum and PA stalls, I may close quickly or let PA run if momentum continues.

That is only one reason why black box EAs don't work in the long run. As I have posted many many times prior their are no short cuts to be successful. Each trader must manage their trades armed with a understanding how the market makers manipulate the market.

So armed with that understanding we trade WITH THEM and don't fight the market.

Just my style.....Each trader must find theirs.. 😎

PS- I gave a long answer due to PM s asking this in addition to trade management questions answering all with one post.

- I entered when PA broke the previous high with a green candle and notable volume

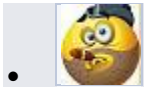

- The trade started to go against me so I entered again when I felt the retrace was over
- After I got my target of 5 pips on the second trade, I closed both trades, so for the first one I got 0.1 pip loss, so the total was 4.9 pips of profit.
- I closed it because it was forming double shoulders (at least that is what it looked like at that time), but after I closed it PA did a huge move upwards.

{quote} Wow!!!! I take my hat off to you 😊 I sincerely thank you for being so supportive in a more public manner 😊 Keep on the amazing work! By the way, I don't know if the developers of PVSRA will trouble you, but I believe it'll be interesting to put the credit of the MT4 tool developers (like TAH and Fisher) on your videos that shows the platform... just to make sure youtube doesn't try anything funny with your channel 😊 {image}

Rob,

I obviously agree that your contributions are a great asset to our thread and all learning PVSRA scalping but I disagree that you should attempt to credit the many traders and developers responsible for our great PVSRA trading system as their are just too many that have contributed through the years and would not enter that mine field.

With that being said, I don't think it would be prudent and give fair consideration and credit to the many traders and coders that gave many days, weeks and months behind the scenes along with TAH developing the PVSRA system. There are just to many to make an attempt at giving public credit to any as individuals that contributed during the PVSRA systems journey.

TAH gave credit to those coders and contributors during his presentation with the roll out of his latest PVSRA indicators with updates and changes. It was his system and his option to give credit where credit was due.

I feel that you should continue your posts with credit due to you for your initiative and dedication without the worry of not giving credit to someone deserving. All traders here can see from Post #1 and the provided link that TAH was the primary architect of our PVSRA system with assistance from many excellent and talented traders and coders.

Thanks to TAH and the many others that worked behind the scenes, I was provided a great trading system and platform and the opportunity to trade and learn with the best traders through the years. As a scalper I was ultimately afforded the opportunity to morph the original PVSRA system into our current successful FIFO scalping system. 🍑

I personally have never taken credit for the PVSRA system but only made changes and some indicator additions to help and facilitate a successful FIFO scalping system. I too have received indicator and EA contributions from talented coders and traders as our thread has progressed and our journey has always been that of a TEAM not as individuals.

Similarly as I suggested above, there are too many that have contributed to our scalping system and thread to unwisely attempt to give credit without failing to credit some names forgotten but deserving.

{quote} Yes Cigarguy, as you mentioned there are many and many people who have helped with coding the scripts so as I am afraid I won't be able to write all their names all the time, I will mention about in specific to this thread as this is the style "PVSRA Scalping with Cigarguy" (scalping style) that I actually use in my trades. And in the videos, people can see on my charts about "Free PVSRA by Traderathome" as it is already written on the charts to begin with, so I guess the credits are already given to TAH by default.

Good decisionno hurt feelings and legal issues.😎

GJ M1 Very FIFO scalp +30 (+6 @ 5 lots) See chart...🚀🚀😄

I don't normally trade GJ but appeared only pair worth stalking at the moment got a little luck and caught at just the right momentum from a small retrace and then 🚀😏

I'm liking GJ today as MM's as playing our key levels as S & R showing their hands..... 😊

GJ M1 FIFO Scalp 3 minutes +31 (+6.1 @ 5 lots) This retrace was expected as profit taking @ LC so stalked for a quick MM momentum entry.....actually non-PVSRA a discretionary scalp.....

M5 was indicating PA was setting up for a retrace at these levels as well as M1 trade was CT but M5 offered nice entry signal from retrace.

GJ is a nice little bank this AM +91 🍷.....😏

Nothing fancy on any of these GJ scalps just stalking and waiting for the MM momentum and then go along for the ride....🚀 and closing with a nice little sting 🐝

It would be helpful if you activated your Trade Level Tag so it is easy to see your profit/loss and not requiring any annotations by you. Easy for all to see as shown on my charts.....Not sure I'm reading your chart correctly.....? 🤔

Cigarguy,

Thank you so much for guiding us in this thread! 🙌🙌🙌 And I hope we can reach that number soon!

We can have a global party since we are all over the world. I can set up a mini party here in Hong Kong with coffee and beer and have you participate from the US via Skype or Google Hangouts. 😊 hi all new member to the club 😊 thanks cigarguy im really liking this place 😊 Entered following trade after is broke major key level with huge volume. Waited for retrace and entered. got stopped out -14. Anyone has suggestion on where i went wrong? {image}

When the candle is way too big (which is your case), you don't need to wait for a retrace. If you look at some of my past trades, sometimes I enter right on that same candle and close it after a few seconds only. This is what you should have done in this trade.

New PVSRA scalpers,

Just a reminder, once you are consistently making your 5 pip targets and are comfortable with your small scalps, you can slowly add lots to fit your account comfort zone to increase your profitability.

I often adjust my lot size depending on my confidence in the trade.

Keeping in mind account preservation is the key to sustainability..😎

EURJPY + 13 + BE

Price broke the 121.600 with high volume, waited for a bull back and entered after a high volume bar but it instantly reversed. Took a bit of a risk and let go way past my usual stop loss to test the 200ema. Got in again at the top when it reacted nicely to that level which was also 50ema on the M5. Didn't want to push my luck and closed the original at BE.

That's me done for the week and I'm away next week so won't be trading.
