Hey Lads, and respected ladesses 😊 So within the intent of this thread I ask the question of what is it USD CAD is never uc that is just poor mastery..

High OuterWest

I sense a frustration on your part about trading in general.If after 3yrs of trading you get annoyed or view traders using UC as "poor mastery" then its not about the symbol but perhaps about your trading..I don't know the future and I am simply using a probability edge of this system which I shared without any personal motive.I could of trade it without sharing it at all.So nobody here is obligated to "teach you" and certainly even with one on one tutoring there is no guarantee you will succeed.

For that you must have the proper attitude which you lack so far.Good luck regards

AUD is overreaching (for others means its overbought chance of correction is great)

AUD is fresh from rate decision and looking like a new car but give it little time and she will get dirty.What this means momentum from rate decision is still in play but should not last long.

Closing my 3 weeks old EU long, turning -1200 pips DD into 200 profit. 😊 Far away from a good trade, just want to show how it helps to be patient and without panic. Opened three weeks ago in the zone, going against me since the start. Hard-stop loss set as S200 as -2600 pips and just waiting, floating loss 1200 pips last week. Today in the zone for short, not really good idea to keep my long here so getting ready to close it. What helped me to keep relaxed while in DD was to look on on monthly pivots where I normally never look. It was super...

I am glad you got out of it without major damage. I did take -1500pip loss on it but I am way over that.

What was interesting and what dropped the Euro was total pessimism of Draghi which was unexpected. I'll say with each experience it only makes you a stronger trader. Sort of battle harden soldier that does not get rattled with few shots around him.

Greener pips to you 🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷

UC has not tested 61R at 3468 and price is not breaking south...or north yet. Market obviously is waiting for NFP
As a parting thought. Eliminate premature entries by focusing on PA in key zones then you shall nail trade after trade without much DD

Update: Saturday, January 6, 2018

Hey there Davit and fellow Pivot-eers! Have been really missing this forum as medical issues and a 3 week trip abroad forced me out of the market for 2 months, am delighted to be back and am trying to catch up to date ASAP, was amazed to see the thread has almost doubled in the meantime, congrats on a successful thread growth. For those who may be interested, I took some early advice on this thread to trial pivot method for a few months and my results before my forced absence were; Month 1 July - 13% profit Month 2 Aug - 1% profit (Aug was brutal...

Hi my friend.I always wondered what happened to you.Whatever it was hope it worked out fine.

Trading real money is different then demo.If you can implement what you did on demo on real account then you'll do fine.Biggest hurdle in trading is admitting that you were wrong and get out.This is easier said then done but that's the heart of trading managing the losers.

What I love about Mark Douglas is his view about trading in general.Its a probability game and you must look at your gains in quarters at least that's what I do.Remember we don't know the future we just make an educated guess hence being wrong is normal.

cheers

{quote} Nice and consistent profit. 🙌 My floating DD has been fluctuated 10-30% and I risk 5% for basket of trades. Average above 10% profit per month last three months. If I can be consistent through the year, it will be more than 100% which is amazing $$$ profit. Even 30% per year is good..

Thanks for Davit's pivot method. 🙌

You are doing fine.Keep doing what you are doing and focus now on cutting DD which means waiting for PA to lead.

Example NU hit 100R 7223 but kept going higher and higher and now its over 200R and finally showing some signs of Resistance.If you automatically shorted from 100R then you would had decent DD or you could of cut it earlier.

Sometimes pairs go extreme and that usually happens in strong fundamental reasons.Market is nervous about US election and Trump is gaining the momentum and Wall street does not want Trump to win hence all this nervous funds are pouring right now on AUD and NZD and to some extent even on The Pound.

The reason I always say trade small because you must have enough funds to withstand unusual occurrences in the market like this and Brexit situations. Anyway good luck now waiting on 4 tf hour for signal.Then we have the unemployment rate tomorrow and it could be a good number with the democrats manipulating the numbers to get Hillary across the line

My focus is on pivots and PA and not expert on harmonics but do have decent knowledge of detecting patterns. In my view best way to see it easily is by using zig zag indicator

I posted a couple of months ago regarding the improvements I've personally been aware of underway in Australia's mining industry, especially regarding the improved near term outlook for coal. The mining companies themselves are cautious about making capex commitments based on expectations that these conditions might continue, but if they do continue their impact on Australia's economy will be significant. As I mentioned previously, many on FF are very bearish on A/U, but I see potential during near to mid term for commodity prices to have further...

was looking at getting on long side of AN still not sure if bears are finished. Could test lower.

On longer term I agree Aussie should get stronger against NZD Swings on this pair tend to go deeper.

From your article you posted.

However, the performance at home has been patchy. Anaemic inflation and a lacklustre labour market could keep the RBA on notice for further cuts.

Underlying inflation is stuck at a record low of 1.5% and seems likely to remain below the RBA's 2% to 3% target band for another year or more.

Employment growth has also disappointed in recent months, while being heavily skewed toward part-time jobs.

Futures market imply at most a 40% chance of a cut next year. A Reuters poll of 60 analysts last week found a majority of respondents had expected one more easing to 1.25% by mid-2017."

Still not as rose as it seems

Once RBNZ cuts rate next weds 9th AN long could become real nice trade. Market anticipate the cut...but anything is possible {quote} " still not sure if bears are finished." Almost all pairs are a wild ride this week. I've seen quite a few hammers and engulfing candles reversed and over powered by the following candle. With the rapid movements and over powered candles I confess I've made trades such as Ibar51 mentioned. I'm idling my engines, cooling my jets, licking a couple of wounds.

don't get too attached to some losers emotionally that is. Look at the gains in 3 month period. That's what businesses do and this is a business at least that's how I treat it.

I took a hit last month -1500pips on EU but still managed to make about 6% gain but Sept was 47% gain and If I hit this month even 10% that's 20% average. Not bad. That's how you should see it. Going back to Mark D large sample size {quote} I agree, job increases have been skewed heavily towards part time. But I have personally witnessed previously long term casual part time contractors being offered full time positions in the mines. Vacancy rates in rental properties are declining rapidly in mining towns in New South Wales in particular, and to a lesser extent in Queensland, the two premiere coal mining states in Oz. Rental returns are improving. "Futures market imply at most a 40% chance of a cut next year." This is now lower than prior to this week's RBA rate statement and...

I think they will cut it. Nothing is 100% but they have signaled that they will. NU could actually hit 70 if they would cut compounded the fact its already way appreciated now.

In my 3rd month I tried experimenting with allowing for a much larger SL and a floating DD to see if it improved my overall trade results. I decided the stress of a large floating DD was not for me at this stage of my trading career, I need to be much more experienced before I let DD get to 10% or more but that is just me personally. Hi Nostromo

In my opinion watching PA H1-H4 and TDI cross will help cutting lots of DD down. There is no rule saying if price broke 61 then you add more at R78. Perhaps admit you were wrong and get out instead of adding more. Only reason I do add more position if I had that intent from the start and price was at critical level harmonically S/R and pivot

Hi guys, nice system and nice thread, congrats. I prefer to study the markets with harmonic patterns, and than use other system to verify if there is more confluence. On EURUSD I found the area 1,117x/1,115x very nice to put some good short, long term (I don't know if I can post here the charts with harmonic patterns, I don't want to violate the thread's rules). Attached you can see a Daily chart with pivot setted up on monthly base. Here we have the R38, I expect the TDI cross in the next days for confirmation to keep the position for long term...

Hi HV

I don't trade monthly pivot don't even look at it. Beauty of my system is in its simplicity. Once you throw monthly pivots it complicates everything. Why not stop at monthly pivot we can throw in Bollinger Bands, MA's Heikenashi candles and histograms at the bottom and before you know it you will have a crippling system with 15 variables. That's not trading.

Trading in simplest form is watching PA at critical levels. I can't answer what you are asking

Its not just US that has issues with globalism it effects other develop countries as well. Take Triumph motorcycles. Started as British company and were made in UK but now just about everything is made in Thailand and Taiwan. Only thing British about it now is its heritage... Same true for Harley Davidson entire parts are made in Asia and Mexico then assembled in US.

I am avid cyclist and 90% of all leading US bicycle frames and parts are not made in US majority made in Taiwan and next time you are in bicycle store look at the label where its made...

This is the part that Trump so far does not get. You are not going to create jobs that already left US by forcing those companies back to US even if that occurs is US consumers willing to pay just about everything 25-40% more? That cost of labor must be factored in end product to pass to consumers...that's the sticking point that you don't hear in debates....Just lot of slogans from both sides which reminds me of soviet union that I grew up in. Lots of slogans and nothing in stores in this case could mean lots of promised jobs and prosperity without substance as how to achieve that. Globalism is here to stay its irreversible. Best we can do is adapt to it and make better decisions.

I love pivots really do. When you see how price acts on it its like a light bulb goes in your head.

Look at EC hugging that WP

So far AJ can't push up beyond 80.15

Hi buddy. I think its important to stress that PA reading is critical part of trading this method.

Example few traders like Arjun went long prematurely on EA and so far its going south. Same situation on NU it kept destroying level after level so PA reading is essential. I do like to see lower TF candles red/green like 15-30min before entry at least I have a decent shot.

more on how to trade this system. Lets go back to EA

PA is obviously bearish on all TF's (look at angleator)

You should not assume S38 will hold. Should not place longs until you see at least 15-30min green candles. TDI turning north or hooking N will be good sign as well.

This is to eliminate losers on premature entries

Once PA reaches 61S then probability of reversal is greater and I usually start my 1st leg of trades provided I see signs of bullishness I mentioned earlier. 78-100S are classic reversal areas and extreme high probability trades so most times its worth waiting for 61-100 levels.

AJ double Top

R38 which was last weeks 100R strong R level

If you negate previous spike on R38 Nov 1st the other recent high was touched in JULY 2016 so does not get this high often

Hi friend. My roll here is to help you and others. There are guys here without exaggeration spent 5-15k on tutoring and seminars and still lost money in trading and PM's I get they get lot more from this thread free then their paid programs.

Trade small and increase your SL. MY SL is 100-300pips depending on pairs I trade. Looking at previous supports on EA you should of factored on wider SL. Getting stopped out on correct direction is not fun. Decrease position increase SL. Practice reading PA correctly. Try not to get in early on trades. Focus on 61-100 S/R and you will find minimum 5 set ups a week that can easily generate 2-3% gain and repeat that 4 weeks you will achieve over 10% gain. Hard part is developing patience. Wait for good set ups.

Just closed AJ so fast on that last spike that didn't have time to take a pic 8 positions over 400pips did not tally yet chances are its over that

FK me it dropped so much more if I just waited 2 min more

Now we need the NU to drop

10 positions on NU

last 3 days has been a major boast to my account 6% gain

2 losses are less then $10 combined.

my biggest fuck up this month could be getting out of AJ early. Just left mega pips out. Still can't get over it Did or "could" anyone see any correlation of market movement/crazy swings as the election #s came in. Just curious..would be an interesting exercise. Could we have predicted who would win based on market movement? did the institutions have #s early/insights that mainstream media/pollsters didn't have?

no liberal media got it all wrong. BS sampling polls showing Clinton lead etc.
True sentiment was Trump rallies where average 20k people show up and Clinton could not even inspire fraction of that with big time Artist's support. What that meant people wanted honesty and change.

To answer your question market is only reacting as tally tilting one or other way. So far all the funds are rushing to Euro. As to how long will that last? I don't know.

very true and that's why its a probability over series of trades."There are always reasons for not putting the trade in and the one you don't place is the winner" Paraphrasing Mark Douglas. My system generates signals and I follow that signal. Out of 20 trades I should hit 70% winners but that 30% losers I have no way of knowing which ones are those in advance hence Trading is acting upon on system Edge over series of trades to show profit.No different what casino does.Casino has about 3% edge.That's enough to generate millions of profit.
Think of it this way if anyone knew 100% that EU will go to 111 in 1 week you would of taken 2nd mortgage and put on this trade.Well reality is we don't know the future but that does not stop us from making logical decisions.

{quote} Dear davit, you had a comment about ea and eu previosly and you were not on the long side in that image. Today your eu idea is long bias. The price pattern looks same. What is the change? I am trying to improve my view. If i understand this i will make better trades. Thanks.

Hi MT

Don't have much time but quickly when I went longs on EU PA showed bullish candles and at one point was in profit on all my positions but after 6hrs things are not looking so great.

I trade small and my SL range 100-300 pips depending on pair and position size hence price dropping -50pips does not bother me.Most times its stop hunting taking out weak longs before real move begins.This is dog eat dog environment and I adapting my trading style to overcome whatever market makers throw at me.I reduced my lots and my leverage and I enter at key turning points.

My EU was at 78S which is great level and even better at 100S. You are not going to hit every trade but have to look at your gains like a business 3 months Q/Q periods otherwise you will be an emotional ping pong going up and down every day.That's not good.Anyway reason again I went long 78S and to me that's a great level.Will it work? Don't know.

As Mark Douglas says "I don't need to know the future to make money"I gambled sports 5yrs and trading 5yrs so I have about 10yrs of experience.Been extreme low emotionally and extreme high but now I don't get too emotional either way.I am like Buddha now "let the price do its thing"You must keep level head calm no panics.Develop confidence,positive thinking and objective analyses.Market is not scary once you figure out how to beat it.

cheers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is another illustration of how the self-image operates. Picture us living inside two boxes. The line farthest out, the solid line, represents real or realistic limits. The dotted line, in the first drawing shown tightly confining Self, represents self-imposed limits. The area between the two is your area or range of under-utilized potential. As you discover the means of strengthening and liberating your self-image, you move the dotted line closer to the solid line, permitting greater use of your true potential.

Davit I have been reading the thread and try to understand your comments. By the way i always want to read variable things. Because of this i asked for additional documents. If this approach not suitable for your topic i am really sorry. Thanks for your reply. Regards.

This is from my trading plan.You don't have to do the same.

STOP LOSS

- 1 Decide how much each swing is worth example $500
2. Divide $500 into mini lots for multiple entries example .50c a pip gives 1000 pip distance
3. This allows averaging in orders as seen fit irregardless if previous orders are in red
4. Orders are placed as long as reason for trade is still valid
5. If conditions change loss is taken since orders are not all placed all at once this allows smaller loss

Each Swing investment is $500 (this number can be anything you like)

Swing is taken as loss once -$500 is reached

There are no exceptions.No running red beyond $500

Orders broken down into mini lots that satisfies each swing consist of 10-15 trades

There is advantage to trade this way.Should PA go against you and you no longer like the trade you can get out by fraction of lot invested hence your loss is minimal instead of traditional 1 trade 1lot per trade when if wrong loss is substantially higher.

Hope that answers you

{quote} Hi, if you see here there is about 65% of the retail traders at Oanda long on EUR/USD, but remember the saying the most of retails traders are wrong 😊 <https://www.oanda.com/forex-trading/...osition-ratios>

This is a myth. Retail traders actually lot more accurate then institutional traders. The reason they fail is being underfunded. Bank can hold a position even if they are -300pips because they aim quarterly targets but average retail trader can't hold that much DD. There is no real correlation % of retail positions and price movement. Retail traders are roughly 6% of the liquidity hence insignificant in terms of powers that move price.

Let me state that if you fade any retail trader position above 60% over a year chances are you will be broke.

I have designed my system to maximize gains by trading like banks do. I have lowered my leverage and lot size to allow greater SL and room to build positions. This is outside of box trading.

Most systems here at FF trade typically with SL of 20-50pips. In most cases these get hit even if you got the direction correct. Got to think outside of the box!

Good Evening guys

I am intense job related projects that consumed my time. Have very little time even to sleep. I have not been able to trade properly nor look at things in proper form hence why my absence of late.

I am in a team that is opening up a new business that means training with vendors, staff etc. Lots of things going on now in my life. Hopefully after new year things settle down.

GM giuys

Have small time to catch up. Lots of important data on USD and Yellen to speak at 10am. My personal take is Feds are concern about raise of greenbacks without actual interest rate increase. This is a problem a major problem actually. If they push USD way up they risk tanking US economy back to recession. Lets be real only reason we are not there yet because of 8 yrs of free money printing back to Wall Street creating a bubble which is seriously bloated and needs a correction because when it bursts its gonna be ugly.

Trump victory and its reaction on the market has been almost 100% wrong. Almost All pundits predicted catastrophic fall in the markets but so far opposite happened. Now almost all predict Feds raising on Dec like sure thing...not sure about the sure thing. Like I said earlier strong USD now is a problem. Feds need to deflate USD before it can raise. Anyway I am not in the bandwagon of USD bulls.

Have lots of trades going some in serious profits and some like EU in DD green pips

I see lot of new names. Welcome and trade profitably.

USD pairs are difficult to trade now.To extreme and uncertainty prevails the market.How much of hike is priced in? Hard to say..

Great opportunities on AN longs. Fundamentally New Zealand is getting hit with too much rain making dairy output challenging and this will effect NZD. As you notice market makers are buying the dips.Notice 61S bounce and another at 538

Thanks brother you are doing great! Nice trades 👍🏆🍺🍺

Still holding AC shorts +700pips now but has huge potential in case OPEC does make a deal by end of this month this should drop 96 or 97 either way even 100pips drop would be mega multiplier of pips for me since my positions are large on this.

2 years is just the start dont forget the 90/90/90 rule 😊 noobs - there r none here thats the whole point of the interactive thread 👍 signal service - this always comes up again & again & just look'n @ other thread over years these thread all end up in commercial threads 😊

👍 UJ is having tough time breaking above 11. Looks poised for correction. This also may play well with AJ as well Holidays can be erratic. Thin liquidity can push price abnormally high or low. UJ dropping 300 pips south would be nice

Just to be clear guys

This method is not about 1 trade or 20 its Edge over series of trades.Think in quarters 3 month period.You may have taken a loss here and there like I have but keep going and the Edge will show its value.

Right now USD is bulldozing everything on its path but when there is carnage there is opportunity. You must keep your loses small.I have no control how you manage your account.Only you can do that.I trade small and I can take good chunk of DD but that's part of how I trade. My Stop loss is predefined by dollar amount and once reach I do take the loss so this nonsense I don't use SL is just that nonsense.People post shit without participation or reading the thread surely get the wrong impression.Responsibility of managing your trades is up to you. As Mark Douglas said anything can happen but one can make money without knowing the future.That's ironic but that's the truth.Its pure probability Edge over serious of trades.

Right now lot of guys are probability getting beat up on USD but that's temporary as everything in forex. EG went ballistic and within few months came down tremendously and that despite of Brexit fears which everyone was bubbling about.

Same thing now EU to parity sky is falling shit should be ignored.Stay calm composed and watch PA

If USD gets too strong its probable and reasonable that Feds may not raise the rate.Its not just about US economy but world economy specially countries that have debt in USD like Brazil.Risks are great that too strong USD can crash world economies including US.

Hi Guys

Thanks for your support. I am in serious family situation now. My younger son age 17 came home yesterday with chest pains and got progressively worse and called an ambulance.

Turn out he has a right side lung collapsed and went under surgery to get the fluids out. So far his internal bleeding is still going on. It has been very intense last 10hrs. Waiting for cat scan results. Totally unexpected holiday that turned out not so holiday like for my family. Won't be able to participate much. The reason of my sharing this is I don't want you guys think I am running away hiding what appears to be serious situation in forex. That's the last thing forex now in my mind. Just want my son to heal and be normal again. Such a wonderful kid plays piano like a concert pianist and quiet funny kid. He told me he laughed too hard at school and could of damaged his lung lining. Anyway take care and share your love with your loved ones. That's what is most important....take care guys

On Thursday, the main focus will be the ISM manufacturing PMI. The closely watched business survey for manufacturing activity is expected to show a third straight month of expansion, with the index increasing slightly to 52.1 in November. The highlight will come from Fridays nonfarm payrolls report however, as it will be the last jobs report for the Fed to assess before it meets on December 13-14 for a scheduled policy meeting.

Nonfarm payrolls are expected to increase by 174k in November, up from 161k in October. The unemployment rate is forecast to hold steady at 4.9%, while average earnings are expected to increase by 0.3% m/m in November versus 0.4% in the prior month. A weaker-than-expected reading is unlikely to deter the Fed from raising rates next month but a much stronger reading could signal faster rate increases in 2017, fuelling the dollar rally further.

I disagree with that statement. Even with strong numbers its no indication how economy will perform in 2017. If past history is to rely chances of recession is 100% after 2 term president

We very likely to have compressed 2 quarters in 2017. Another issue is strong USD. Feds can't keep lifting USD higher and higher and not expect emerging world economies to collapse.

Lots of countries pinned their debt to USD and strong USD means higher interest and weaker local currency. This has snow ball effect on trade and our economy.

If Trump does what he said he would actually we may not see a rate hike at all in 2017 and even this Dec may not happen.

interesting article on recession above.

Recession and Elections

I recently noted that since 1910, the US economy is either in recession or enters a recession within twelve months in every single instance at the end of a two term presidency... effecting a 100% chance of recession for the new President little update. MY son is doing well but fluids still draining from his lung. He may have to stay another week. Its been very hectic for me as you can imagine.

Thanks for all good wishes and prayers. You guys are the best 🙌😊
I see new faces here which is good. Trade small hone your skills. Market will be here no rush.

Closed 3 positions on EA at 4215 +200 pips could be more pips

Hi, Would this be a valid short entry? {image}

if you don't have enough experience stick with majors slow pairs! hone your skills where you can lose least. Its not about profits but managing risk. Watch PA ! there is no such a thing as "valid" only good probabilities

Its important to recognize that lot of USD bulls have perhaps already priced in the hike and despite of green data there is obviously not that much interest to buy USD ATM you might become the "late retail buyer of USD" getting tail end of the trend
