Same currently long A/J and A/U long might get out at R38 if signs of reversal, also short U/C hopefully it drops before important calender events tomorrow.

I have a question: Has anybody ever paid any attention to or investigated the significance of the spacing of the weekly pivot lines? Their spacing varies each week and it seems that if they are close together swings at the S38 & R38 pivot levels are more significant than when they are further apart. Davit - have you ever looked at this or used as a factor in your trading?

I have not but will look into it. 👍

I hope you guys see the value of having awareness of calendar events.Its being prepared and have full knowledge what's coming up and plan the trades.

If you go over my posts you'll see how accurate its been my outlook on Euro PMI result and market reaction.This is money in the bank.Lots of traders are so fixated on fking indicators that they can't see the forest but get fixation on little tree.

Indicators are in general like MA's Oscillators mathematical computation of what already has transpired.It has nothing to do with market makers hence when someone says this oscillator is over bought or oversold I get hairs on my back stand up.Its just such amateurish outlook.Takes years to get the head out of the sand {quote} Perhaps unsurprisingly you see a similar pattern in the average level of the VIX. usually, the VIX trends up from around August and tends to peak in October. So it's not at all unusual to see some elevated readings of the VIX or volatility index around this time of the year. But it's likewise not unusual to see the VIX start to taper off around now too.... Hence, my take would be a strong USD ahead...

Everything could change if GDP numbers print below 3.3 MM pricing it now wont be surprised dumping of USD tomorrow

No I find so far forex to be relatively cheap to trade.As long as I don't hold USD sell orders too long.

Stocks ? not interested OIL? Got CAD for that 😊 Gold Silver? No interest

I am hitting 8-12k a month trading forex why change anything.My issues right now are with taxes

Davitt, A wonder when I look at your results and the closeness of some of you entries, you are also a working person like myself - I am not able to get enough orders in around the S/R levels when I see a failure. Too many meetings, commuting to work etc. do you put in Market Orders ? i.e. You see EURAUD fail at 1.6250 and you see its around 1.6220 ish at night or before you go to work. then set some orders to sell at below 1.62... space them out xx points etc.

Its doable specially pairs that are ranging like UJ you could place sell at 1260-13 say 10 orders and walk away TP 12

It could become a problem doing this before major event you must look ahead.I work full time and have no issues keeping up with trading plus this forum 😊

you should of got out at 70.Saying it does not make price getting there and it may but with considerable wait time and that margin could of been used example NJ longs. You have to take what market gives

I find most times price retreats hence you can reload on AN longs below your TP example out at 70 reload at 50 gave you 20 free pips of profit.
Anyway perhaps I micro manage too much.Cheers

I suggest to go over your trades both good and bad right down notes what you should work on to improve.

Do your calendar events and you will notice study improvements of your trading

This is how you get better incremental improvements. Very similar to Chess if you just play without any study then you will stay certain rating for years and years and never improve however if you systematically study openings, defense, offense, combinations, tactics you will improve dramatically. Brain has a capacity to observe new information but you must provide that stimuli

Losers generally lose because they are doing same things over and over and seldom consider it maybe the way they are trading. You must improve aspects that are winning and repeat it over and over until it becomes muscle memory.

cheers

My calendar events

Wont be posting this every week since this is my personal analyses.Doing it so you guys get an idea.

Background tone USD corrections likely to continue however market is king.

AUD Building Approvals m/m 1st thing that jumped up to me. Generous 3.9% from previous dismal-9.4%

Will continue hold AU and AJ longs. I see AUD getting some love.In fact my AJ is largest positions I have now.

Tues

USD CB Consumer Confidence 136.3 previous 138.4 should this print even more red I anticipate USD selling to continue specially on EU and GU

AUD CPI Q/Q .05 from previous .04 rather tiny green but could be even larger. Consumer prices account for a majority of overall inflation. Inflation is important to currency valuation because rising prices lead the central bank to raise interest rates out of respect for their inflation containment mandate.

Although this data is extremely late relative to inflation data from other countries, it's the primary gauge of consumer prices and tends to create hefty market impacts.

Trimmed Mean CPI q/q 0.4% 0.5% mix bag here will see if both green this will send AUD flying at least stimuli to do so.

Monetary Policy Statement

BOJ Policy Rate

BOJ Outlook Report Don't expect any change.

Weds

CAD GDP M/M could be green in which case UC shorts likely exhilarate their descent. 1.29? trajectory? Possible if Friday CAD data prints green

Thurs

Big day for GBP however after raising the rate to .75 I don't expect much from these releases. Carney is Sloooowww

Inflation report is most important here.

USD ISM Manufacturing PMI big one here with tariff wars going on this could print real red. I don't expect green here.

NZD ANZ Business Confidence

AUD Retail Sales m/m The winner here will impact AN pair. Whichever side wins will have immediate reaction. I like to see AN drop lower so I can load up longs

Friday

Key release NFP however unemployment and earnings matter as well. In my view its not going to be green which could take the sails away from that moron J Powell's obsession about raising rates.

CAD

Employment Change/Unemployment Rate

This could be green and will most likely hold my UC shorts.

Got my battles sort out. Ready and loaded 🍺👊💰

My Friend Davit,

Your system absolutely works with my experience. Unfortunately, I had to use my equity for local bills, but will be back live soon to cash-in and reaching that 10% plus per month in January 2019 or sooner. In the meantime, I am actively following your lead on a Demo to keep me in practice.

I am really glad you are back and hope the trolls do not get the better of you. You are needed here although quite a few of your students here have kept things going during your sabbatical from here and the other Weekly Pivot Trading !

Once I get the fundamentals to help better predict the Pivot Trading Technicals here, I will be better prepared to post charts again.

All the best to you and yours !

trend goes against me and then buying some more, again trend goes against me and again buy some more.

Then the reversal happens but not enough to make a profit.(should have sell the orders with a little loss) Keep hoping for a profit but the price keeps dropping.

Take the decision to sell the orders.

The moment i sell price starts rising again.

Happy trading

Hi R

I think you don't understand nature of the Yen.Yen is perceived as "safe heaven" and often it appreciates in uncertain periods specially before major USD releases.

You should trade instruments you are well aware. I don't trade GJ at all and its called a dragon,beast etc because its PIA to trade if you get it wrong.It can go 300pips or more in a single day and you better be on right side.I don't trade it because I prefer lower ADR pairs.

Try filtering your trades more.

Try to focus on UC,NC,AC,EA,AU,GU,NU,AN,EU,CJ,NJ,AJ from now on.

Should have realized trading 3 pairs against jpy you actually tripple your order.

Davit i started selling EurAUD two months before under the belief of AUD get strong. Due to lack of experience, i couldnt understand the Tradewar impacted the AUD. I continued selling at regular interval under the belief that AUD get strong. Pips went against me around -5000 points, drawdown almost 40% but i had enough margin to safeguard the balance. Between 1.6350 - 1.6075 swing i managed to lock 2000points as of now and waiting for the break of 1.6000 level. i could have gone out with minor loss but out of sheer ego and confidence of aud get...

This happens and did happened to me on EG end up holding it for almost a year however what I did kept selling the tops collect wait price hit 88+ sell again and again over 10 times I think and not only it covered my loss but made good profit on it.

So in your case once you see price not breaking 1.60 put a SL to collect profit wait price jump up sell again do it as often as swings allow to eventually price breaking south or close enough that taking the loss would be equalized+ by repeated profit taking

You got to let go of your past.

@Davit, There are many traders who do not trade news, cause of lack of command(experience) on fundamentals, so if you dont mind, would you like to give a concluded summary on trading fundamental??? I will be thankful for this kindness.

I am sorry but I am going to remove you from here. Not sufficient experience to be here.I read your replies and lot of them asking trade opinions what others think and that's tall tell sign of someone just starting out.

I must keep this thread on high level instead of getting dragged down to turtle pace by rookies.

I like to add that in addition to video info I look at the calendar events filtering best probable trades and zero in on it.

Example we had lots of red PMI's last week on Euro I said I was planning to sell the Euro against crosses mostly EA and EN and that's exactly what I did once those numbers printed red.

Also Pivots trading does not mean automatic counter-trading. Certain pairs I trade with the main trend and it can be traded 1 direction only with main trend buying dips or selling rallies which I do often. This is important because I don't want people to think we are standing in front of the train every day. I might do a comprehensive video incorporating everything. There are lots of nuances.

Ok guys lets go over simple chart NJ
I have been buying every dip Why you may ask! Simple look its classic range chart and we at the bottom going north.
Once this is established we are looking dips to buy. Simple correct?
Pull your calendar events and look. BOJ data coming up hence dips very likely.

There you just got a trading plan for this pair and you can repeat same on AJ

That's Tues Oct 30. Had you not been aware of BOJ and totally oblivious to news then you might of missed golden opportunity to make solid $$

You just got a beautiful insight without paying 500 for a shit course with lots of mambo jumbo. I go over calendar events carefully and I am totally aware whats coming. Knowledge is confidence and an Edge. Now look at same chart with pivots. Clears up beautifully {quote} Davit, I think one of my main struggles as I was starting with this system was every R/S 61-100, I would look for reversal in direction of WPP, I would make profits actually, but I learned very very quickly that became a horrible recipe for disaster, because i would blindly enter reversal at those zones and get into huge drawdowns not understanding why and blaming the system too difficult. I don't have 2 years experience, but I have a brain and willingness to learn learn learn. I have an obsessive personality so when I pick something I'm...

you are doing good. There are lots of snake oil salespeople trying to make trading simple its not. Let me elaborate pressing buttons is simple but reasons are not. Your trading psychology may not have matured without proper experience...

As you gain experience correct decisions become automatic like playing piano with correct hand posture but that correct hand posture had to have started someplace.

Keep at it you will get progressively stronger and mistakes are natural don't beat yourself when you do but make an effort to learn from it.

always in sink with account size and available margin. I do it because I have healthy margin but on select pairs AJ NJ AN my favorites to hit hard specially AN seriously how far can it drop when both economies are basically same this may drop prior or after BOJ then opportunity to reload longs both AJ and NJ. Don't need 20 pairs just need the right pairs

{quote} U/J coming close to R61 and is also 50% fib retracement and also we have US Consumer confidence expected to print red in roughly 6 hours from now. my question is would you get in early if price reversed at R61 on the expectation of negative or would you still wait until data is revealed? thanks Riese

UJ has been ranging and its high probability short even before US data CC 113 is holding up as a resistance and BOJ may show sign of tightening up. UJ has a tendency to drop hard 50-80pips almost randomly but usually uncertainty makes yen stronger and Trump is not making USD "safe" at least perception of the market Massive tax cuts added more debt to treasury and tariff wars makes markets nervous and Feds are aggressively raising rates. Something is about to break and that may start from Wall street depreciation which already has began..

Thanks I did take a couple of AU and UC along the way. Will look for other opportunities during week but mostly waiting on those negative USD numbers and/or NFP

I am looking at your gains and puzzled. How did you only make less than 14 dollars on 69pips 4trades .08 lot 🤔 seems like lot of effort for peanuts.No offense I am just scratching my head here.

Do you have 500 dollar account? that may explain it
69 pips divided with .80C equals 86 dollars minus spread fees whatever 80dollars
What am I missing

Looking at E/A long at S38, normally I only take 61 + trades but S38 has acted as support over last few weeks also with Germany unemployment change expecting to print lower forecast than previous month could boost the Euro don't long EA better wait let MM push price up then sell. This could drop to 59

Trade with bigger trend.EA has been dropping 3weeks plus

Certain pairs I only trade 1 direction

AC NC buy only unless its on swing edges

EA sell always or don't touch it

EN same

UC short practically always

EU and GU long unless its at R levels.

UJ short always or won't touch it.

NJ AJ CJ long always unless its on outer edges

{quote} Greetings davit, how can be used your pivot system in intraday trading?

I trade swings which weekly pivots work the best for intraday checkout daily pivots. I am afraid I can't be much help there. My system is based on swings you do search on ff forums "daily pivots" I am sure you'll find the right indicator

Hello Fellow Pivot Traders,

As I have done in the past for members of this thread, I have collated Davit's brilliant work for quick review from beginning 4-27-216 to 12-31-2017 in PDFs which you can search on the Clip Files button above by using my handle "DrForexMD" to search them.

Now, I have been given the OK to begin uploading this years Pivot Trading PDFs beginning with January 1, 2018:

Right. But that trade didn't have anything to do with Fibonnaci or 61, surely you can see you just sold the top.

I remember you saying Davit, that not many new members gonna be here after one month. They come, show impressive results and then they disappear. After a year I'm still here. I was demoing from october to december '17 until I opened totally new 2000€ live account in mid February this year. My results may not be impressive in €-s but I think they are quite good in %. So far gain over 90% and looking to double the account next month eventually. So 4K is the goal then it is officially doubled. As it gets mentioned by some people that floating loss...

Great work friend. They are losers,trollers,time wasters and they are traders like you who succeed!
Keep it going 🙌💰👍🔪

{quote} here is for you Enjoy Armenian song (love song) I know John you'll dig it. Little background info Paul Baghdadian was a giant of a singer RIP who not only influenced Armenian music but all the way to Persia,Lebanon,Kurdistan etc. Tully unique singer who held nothing back on live performances. Truly amazing singer,song writer and composer. She sings his songs now basically covers. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4rP6NrUJvuo>

Beautiful song & artist. Thanks for sharing. I have spent some time in Kurdistan assisting the people there and they are very passionate about music and life in general even though they have been persecuted in many ways. I actually love the Middle East and all the culture to be found there. Perhaps one day I'll make it to Armenia.

{quote} Davit, Thanks for posting...beautiful to view. Impressive trading, TX Just one question...why did you wait until the trade reached the pivot area instead of adding positions earlier?

I often look at the weekly pivot as pivotal bias.Once price breaks it I get more confident and add more.I have been doing this often when it does not break I get out then reload later.

Very impressed you have been to Kurdistan. They are genuine people and we share a lot of things in common. In Armenia they are free to worship and do whatever they like. In fact they are building the largest temple in the world in Armenia Fascinating to learn about the temple. I have spent a large amount of time around Sinjar Mountain & Sinjar City and other outlying areas. Was in Mosul last year when many, many atrocities were happening. Have seen first hand the plight of the Yazidis and especially the young women and children who were used as slaves, shields, and worse. Those memories will forever be etched in my mind. I'll also travel back there again soon.
