I've been testing this system for only 3 days...works really great. It certainly helps that I have been trading for 9 years, so using price action for my trading decisions is second nature for me. {image}

Welcome 🍺👍💰

For experienced traders this systems is cash cow and why I dont deviate change system every month been trading Pivots for years now unchanged.

Trading is complicated at first but due to gaining experience become simpler but to reach this simplicity one perhaps has to shed lot of skin.

Hope you stick around 👍

Hi guys got back home from work. UP on all my trades now 💰💰💰 just waiting to maximize gains

classic Pivot R failure GC

CJ same strong classic Pivot support+82 whole number

UC took it confident of red NFP sill in profit despite of decent NFP R100

Just want to refresh you guys. I trade mostly towards fundamental direction example EN was swing low but due to Euro zone weakness I prefer to have the MM push the price up and I sell EN by buying much better fundamentally NZD.

Its how I see pairs some I trade both ways like AC but Euro pairs I prefer to sell unless its great spot like my last Month EC longs which I made great money 4450-45 was bargain. Dont see that on EN.I think it could drop easily to 72 and below.Brexit is looming, Red Data slowing Euro Zone is screaming recession..

Anyway I hope I conveyed something of value.

You dont have to think like me or trade like me but this is how I trade.I always prefer having fundies pushing my sails.

Daily candles and weekly EN is pushing down why I prefer selling the rallies in addition to fundamental reasons.

Funny by just typing this post I made extra 500🤔💰🍺 just waiting

Kathy Lien of BKForex has added a page she calls the Fundamental Heatmap. It shows her outlook for 8 major currencies based on monetary policy, data, politics and general outlook. <https://www.bkforex.com/kathy-heatmap/> nice summaries agree with everything only thing is little out of sink is JPY.Its actually getting stronger...despite of everything else.Safe heaven still it is.

Time to close this one first thing this coming Monday. +700 pips. This trade is only around 50 pips from first position. But more pips was made because of multiple positions. One of the best things I've learned in this strategy is that sometimes you don't need big moves to make a lot of pips. You can take advantage of small moves with multiple positions and make more pips than what a swing trade can give. {image} Edit: Look at where the price stopped before moving up? Touched the ADR low to the pip.

This has been one of the key cornerstones of this system 👍 since beginning. Keep hammering 💰 trades

Hi guys if you want to watch perhaps Best Amazon produced ever watch Jack Ryan season 1 fantastic season 2 cant stop watching... while you are drinking wine and watching your trades develop and time to kill The shots,screen play,acting is on different level.Its the best thing I watched for long time.

Looking forward for new week of trading.Go over the calendar map out potential set ups. AUD dominating Sun night and Monday-Watch 1st see how MM are pushing this selling or buying.Dont get in without this feel.You dont want to be opposite of train...standing up in front of the train waving hands...better get on board!!
Same goes for GBP Thurs.Could be very case of pump and dump right after thurs data.

Very nice guys keep brainstorming but also allow flexibility to see what price does in reality. By brainstorming you are gearing up mentally to be in sink with the market. Does not matter if what you are brainstorming now is correct or not what's important that you are involved and that's the difference in almost all successful traders they are acutely aware of the market.

What I find not helpful guys getting all fired up about trend lines, BS support Resistance levels, candle colors, and almost all technical crap where 95% lose money. I rarely if ever read one of these traders ever say "We got red news Tues at 7pm" instead you will read PA trend line up red candle bla bla bla where you just want to wack the guy on the head and say wake up from your stupor and look at the market as IS. Its alive and events happening and you got to be in IT not stuck on chart technical mental gymnastics Takes time but experience guys know what I am talking about.

Did not take any trades yet. Better be flat then force a trade. Do want GC to get pushed higher 7065-71 would be nice and then maybe start selling it Daily clearly has room to go up specially with key data release on Thurs. So plenty of time to get pushed high.

Quoting GreenEarth

Hello fellow traders , I hope all is well for all. Hard to believe that we are into November of this year !!!!! I bring this up , as a "heads up" , well in advance !!!!! REMEMBER DECEMBER of 2018 ? I did not do well at all in DECEMBER of last year and the nagging "bite" of the Market during that Month is still present. My memory has served me well this year , but , most importantly this thread and ALL OF YOU !!!!! I vowed to myself to "stay away from the Market for the Month of December 2019" !!!!! This year , I will. Just a reminder to those who...

Agree on Dec and welcome back! 🍺🚴🏂🍀

Should be exciting night Red Rate event on AUD

Its funny that I get excited about red events while some of my colleagues run away and shut their PC's 🍷

To me its all about volatility. How can we exploit this? Should be on the agenda! RED EVENTS SHOULD ALWAYS BE LOOKED AT AS POSITIVE DEVELOPMENT

Opportunities to make bank

Its shifting your mindset from fear of the market to opportunity to make money. This point was thoroughly covered by Mark Douglas in "Trading in the Zone"

The market doesn't generate happy or painful information

From the markets perspective, it's all simply information. It may seem as if the market is causing you to feel the way you do at any given moment, but that's not the case. It's your own mental framework that determines how you perceive the information, how you feel, and, as a result, whether or not you are in the most conducive state of mind to spontaneously enter the flow and take advantage of whatever the market is offering.

Mark Douglas

Its about capital strangulation over time of holding. If you got say 5k account and you got 3k margin holding on EA and should it not work out say 5days you are deprived to make money unless take a loss to free margin.

Therefore its not always trade working out but HOW LONG it takes to work out. Not saying it may not work out next 8rs but I hate capital being kept hostage

Example of a typical dashboard trust me I have tested many all fail. Notice top buy is EC however what it does not show or can't show that EC has been ranging for weeks and price just spiked in thin market on minor retail red news. This is likely to drop by Friday. Had you followed this dashboard or similar then you would of picked maybe number 1 loser buying top after a news. To me all great trading is discretionary {image} this post was 2yrs ago worth reading. My opinion has not changed. Want to add most dashboards are based on MA's and there are lagging indicators which can't accurately tell you how news events and market makers pushing orders. What may appear solid buy could be biggest sucker buy.

People trading these kinds of gadgets are seldom profitable. Trading is more challenging then that. It requires set of skills and gadgets can't replace that.

AUD gets the boot I meant it will get sell off most likely and your EA should bounce north. You do need to know EA long is buying the Euro and selling AUD

What you wrote made no sense.Seriously how long have you been trading?

{quote} Do you still have any hope for tonight? i'm worse 😞

You need to stagger your orders smaller lots so your trades have "reserves"
You need to read the thread. Use search button. Don't need to read years of posts. Type the subject and read. Lot has been covered over the years.

I already mention AUD monetary policy tonight and fundamentals are huge part of this system. You need traction time.

People who short cut here will not make it as any other system or no system. It's more about understanding order flow

In my opinion will take minimum 5yrs to understand proper correct order flow. Takes screen time.

Why person A takes a loss and I add more orders and end up in good profit on exact same trade. It's how one sees the market. Systems are overrated what is not overrated and almost everything is gauging and understanding market footprints order flow. This is critical because without this knowledge your MA's Dashboards, Oscillators are useless.

Yes I wrote those .What was the point of your post? I often collect get in again and again maximizing profits. The saying buying dips selling rallies applies to me in most cases. Example I got out at 6035 and if I choose to get in now 6024 that's 9pips extra plus money already collected not given back to the market

EA is EUR base currency AUD secondary

When you go long you are buying EUR and selling AUD hence weakening AUD will drive EA higher.

NZD rate news on wed projection another rate cut. Will this make NZD tank again? I doubt. The recent rate cut was almost double the sentiment and why EURZND shot up over 400 pips. since then price HAS been in consolidation. I would love to see MM push price up before wed so can sell it. {image}

If rate cut occurs likely EN shoots 75+then sharp decline and Yes this could be great opportunity to nail great pips👍💰🍺

Points that I am Considering Next Week. ( EDT TIME )

The US and China : Do We have agreement?

when or where the two leaders can meet to do the formal signing?

US-China trade talks are progressing, and there is optimism that the US will not levy tariffs on European autos as early as next week

Australian Dollar will raise rates?

Canadian Dollar still suffer from a loss of jobs in Canada?

Mon Nov 11

5:30 GBP Prelim GDP q/q

.....GBP GDP m/m..... neutral..... -

0.1% -0.1%

.....GBP Manufacturing Production m/m... optimism..... -

0.2% -0.7%

UK GDP: The UK economy contracted in the second quarter .
A return to growth for the third quarter?

Tue Nov 12

5:30 GBP Average Earnings Index 3m/y..... neutral 3.8% 3.8%

UK jobs report UK jobs report is projected to show an upbeat job market — contradicting the warnings from the Bank of England.

The unemployment rate is expected to remain at 3.8% in September, around the historic lows, while wage growth is forecast to hold onto the yearly growth rate of 3.9% — well above the inflation rate of 1.7%.

22:00 NZD Official Cash Rate..... XXXX..... 0.75% 1.0%

New Zealand rate decision: New Zealand rate decision: The Reserve Bank of New Zealand has already cut interest rates by 0.75% this year after a long period of stagnation and may do it again — slashing another 25 basis points and setting the Official Cash Rate at 0.75%.

The rise of the unemployment rate to 4.2% has worried ?

The rate cut is or not fully priced in by markets?.

Wed Nov 13

5:30 GBP CPI y/y .....pessimism..... 1.6% 1.7%

UK CPI: UK CPI: Falling energy prices and an increase in the value of the pound imply another deceleration in inflation — from 1.7% to 1.6% in the report for October.

Such a drop would justify the BOE dovish?.

The bank targets a rate of 2%. Core Consumer Price Index is set to remain unchanged at 1.7%, while the Retail Price Index is predicted to drop from 2.4% to 2.2%.

9:30 USD CPI m/m .....optimism..... 0.3% 0.0%
 ..... USD core CPI m/m..... optimism..... 0.2% 0.1%

US CPI: US CPI: While the Federal Reserve has cited lower inflation as one of the main reasons for cutting interest rates, prices have picked up. Core CPI has accelerated to 2.4% as of September.

is the forecast will remain at that level once again in October?

12:00 USD Fed Chair Powell Testifies

Powell testifies Jerome Powell, Chairman of the Federal Reserve, has signaled a pause after cutting rates for the third time in a row. However, the bar for raising rates in the future seems to be higher than cutting them. In his prepared remarks on Wednesday and also in lengthy responses to lawmakers on both days of testimony, Powell has the chance to provide updated insights. Apart from the recent inflation report, Powell's comments on the latest upbeat jobs report may be of interest. He will also be grilled on trade policy but will likely dodge politically-sensitive comments.

20:30 AUD Employment Change..... optimism..... 16.2% 14.7%
 ..... AUD Unemployment Rate .....neutral..... 5.2% 5.2%

Australian jobs report: . The land down under has a low unemployment rate of 5.2%, but the RBA is unsatisfied with this outcome. The same level will likely be repeated in the report for October. The employment change figure is expected to show an increase of 16.2K positions, similar to 14.7K jobs gained in September — a satisfactory advance.

Thu Nov 14

11:00 USD Fed Chair Powell Testifies

Powell testifies same Above.!!!

03:00 EUR German Prelim GDP q/q..... neutral..... -0.1% - 0.1%

German GDP: German GDP: Fears of a recession will likely materialize in the Gross Domestic Product figures for the third quarter.
The euro have squeezed by 0.1% in the quarter ending in September after a drop of 0.2% in the second quarter.
Two consecutive quarters of contraction is the recession?.

Fri Nov 15

10:00 USD Core Retail Sales m/m..... optimism..... 0.3 - 0.1%

..... USD Retail Sales m/m..... optimism..... 0.1 - 0.3%

US retail sales: Consumption has been the stronger part of the economy, but September's data disappointed with a drop of 0.3% in the headline and 0.1% in core sales. October's publication will likely show better figures — an increase of 0.1% in the headline and 0.3% in core retail sales. The control group carries expectations for a leap of 0.7% after remaining flat beforehand.

I stopped posting before due to all the negativity this thread attracted. I believe that was because some people were skeptical of Davit's success and others who followed pivots and skeptics wanted this thread to die just like many others on FF. A lot of people asked me via PM's if I'm still trading pivots? The answer is Yes. However, I also started to learn about harmonic patterns (crab and deep crab to start with) and will be focusing on only these 2 patterns along with pivots for next year(2020). If Davit permits, I would like to share a few...

Hi buddy you can share anything anytime 🍺👍 AUD may get a boost on Weds if employment prints green if not it will get heavy sell off

EA long what I am eying for. Lots of room north. Nice dip would be nice here

My only advise on harmonics is this. How long you are planning to hold trades. This is critical. If you are planning weeks and weeks then fine but I am not that type of trader. I go in and get my pips and out wait for a dip/rally get in and out etc. Repeat. I can't keep my money tight up.... Example some of your patterns go really deep and you might miss great opportunities thinking and waiting for price to reach those deep numbers but may not and you could miss great Pivot set ups... What I am trying to convey is you must define yourself what kind of TIME frame trader you are then work backwards.

I place more importance on fundamentals and Pivots then anything else. Why also I don't look at last weeks pivots. To me it's useless every week is fresh beginning and end. Cycle continues week after week. The more I do this simpler it gets.

EA is ranging and I love range. Notice WP is providing support.

When trading range place trades only 1 direction of likely break out. Not both ways. I had days when I made more from 20 pip range trades than 100pip swing.

I adapt market condition. If range? Then I hit it. Price can go either up or down so from this perspective it's irrelevant how it does it.

I treat this as work so when I am trading I try to make money however I can.To me not making anything whole day is waste of a market day.That's just me.Everyday now counts since year is coming to an end soon Dec hits and market becomes chaotic...best be extremely selective and keep lots smaller then usual because you can get erratic huge spikes.I may close shop after 1st week of Dec

I am thinking in this scenario rate cut could be seen positive development since its invigorating the economy...or could be simple case of market makers clearing all stops low end then dump NZD after the cut go opposite clear all stops top.For them win bottom win top..

same selling GBP but different route

Textbook Pivot trading GC was easy to spot and matter of waiting a little

You need to place something bigger then 10cent a pip....!

may hit EG again nice dive down at close almost sure she got 20-30 pips north in her. Have to wait until spread comes down sometimes best trades are obvious trades. No need home runs just give me 20-50 pips end of the day it piles up 🙌💰

AUD should recover soon. Job was only few k's off and unemployment slightly red. Not bad considering Euro zone unemployment numbers and here in US slowing down economy will start showing its ugly face soon. Its coming. Its going to be race to the bottom again ...except Yen Swiss and Euro which are already bottom...

Days of green numbers on retail spending, jobs employment will be over ....soon it will be who is less fked up...

In the past, would have closed due to one currency having a beating only to recover the moment I closed the trades, when the other currency having a worse beating data wise or some random news mess it up. I will be more patient this time. Experience is the best teacher.

EG is "safe" data was green next GBP retail red here will send pound flying.....against bricks

Hopefully you guys understanding importance of these events shaping price.Its not about MA's Oscillators and their projected Divergences and over and under levels and all that BS jazz typical trader gets all hooked up its about fundamental data shaping price.That's as simple as that. Anyone who teaches a system does not go over events and its importance dont bother following or trying.Its a waste of time.You should not take lessons from ignorant and same you dont take piano lessons from someone who plays poorly.Its frustrating to me how new traders get slaughtered by misguided and ignorant.

Stay on course and understand the heart and the beat of the market!

Hi all, Davit, thanks again for this great thread. I am extremely pleased to see you absolutely nailing it. Very well deserved. The same goes for the other main contributors. I will become more active on this thread now that I can focus back on trading again. There has been a number of posts regarding GBP. Just wanted to add my 2 cents (well pence I guess 😊). The General Election is 4 weeks away and that, at the moment, is by far and away the main driver behind any major moves on the pound. Any economic news coming out at the moment regarding...

Thanks for great post on GBP and welcome back 💰🍺👍🍺

Started to "break out of my USD/CAD shell" this week and try some other pairs. CAD/JPY just about drove me insane , out with a whopping $2.00 profit. Starting to watch the EUR/JPY. Keep it up gang , you members are crushing it !!! GE

Try playing commodity pairs against each other instead of Yen.Yen gets strong every time there is uncertainty.

AC is solid buy now

I have some open trades on Oanda. They used to charge me around 2 or 3 us$ per day. Last Wednesday, with the new rules they charged me us$ 23 Here, I show you the pairs that should be avoided unless you want to pay the following costs: SWAPS & NEGATIVE on Oanda (New Rules) PAIRS LONG..... ON Wed.. 1 LOT..... Per Wed EURNZD..... -33,45% 100000 x 1/365 €$-91,64 EURCAD..... -28,89% 100000 x 1/365 €$ -79,15 EURUSD..... -27,12% 100000 x 1/365 €$ -74,30 GBPNZD..... -25,83% 100000 x 1/365 £$ -70,77 GBPCAD.....

On a flip side if you close before 5pm you dont get swap fees even if held 23hrs before even holding a position for 1hr you would of get charged.This is main reason why I avoid buying and holding negative pairs. On a positive side my accountant declared all my swap fees as loss and was taken out as loss. So for me its just cost of doing business. Oanda may not be the best but I would not trust my money in caribbean island broker or from Cyprus

After Brexit this could shoot high but wont stay there too long with crappy economics it sure will crash down again
Past glory is no guarantee for future glory! World has changed...and changing

We did not have millions of North African/middle eastern refugees flooding Euro zone, globalism, flat interest rates ,extreme high unemployment, stagnation, fragmentation
Its a different Europe now much weaker

One more week, one more learning. Remember guys, we are in the best thread of FF. Do not forget the recommendation number 1 of our master. DO your CALENDAR OF ECONOMIC EVENTS. We always need to advance things, to advance market reactions. This practice is very important for our growth. I am a pilot, and the first thing we learn in aviation is always being ready to react with the right sequence of procedures. WE HAVE TO REDUCE THE CHANCES OF BEING SURPRISED Euro for next week show me some green optimism. Not sure that. we need to study during the...

Thank you friend yes its very important the Events! and how that effects price. 🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷

Well known trader here claimed after 10yrs of trading after loses fees he collected 50k.He busted his account...When his TE was up he was heavily leveraged and compounding same red positions over and over that after 10yrs of experience!!!!

At some point to be successful is having realistic expectation.That realization can do wonders and can change how you see the market.

Another trader started a thread trying to take 50 dollars to a million in a year.Again without realistic expectation is sure to fail.I firmly believe without proper mental outlook failing in forex is almost guaranteed.You can have 10 15 20 years trading experience and still lose.Step back! take mental inventory what crucial aspect is missing in your trading and work on it.

I can categorically say people who play chess without reading, studying ,going over great games or watch masters play will stay same rating irregardless of how many years of playing because your brain is not having mental shocks of new information hence your playing becomes habitual.

You can test this try doing tactic exercises 20 of them then play chess you will see vast improvement almost immediately.Why is this? You broke your own limitation.Trading is same way you can get trapped in your losing ways for years and not be fully aware.Break the cycle force yourself to improve!

spikes are common on NY closing or opening. Brokers widen spread greatly due to lack of liquidity but obviously some bucket shops exploit this further.

I am generally happy with Qanda most importantly I get my money out in 24hrs or less.Trying get your money out is most important because bucket shops can give you round and round BS and I read plenty complains.

I know right? Love Pivots keep your enthusiasm and optimism and money will roll in. In its simple form successful trading is generating profits over large sample size! You may have a bad day even a week but end the month in green and quarter super green. You have to zoom yourself out and see it in bigger scale.

There are X factors in the markets like manipulations fake news whatever that can't be predicted and that's just nature of the markets going from fear to greed. When you keep your positions small you can take the punches and counter punch and get in green. That's the key keeping healthy troops in reserves.

Really have to keep your senses overnight and tomorrow...starting early London....tons of news effecting Euro, Cad, Gbp.....stops will not save you during volatility that could be the result of unexpected changes...personally I am back to cash until NY open when I can see the results overnight. but that is just me, I am not a gambler. I value hard earned money way too much to gamble on what might be. {image}

If you dont want to get burn dont become a cook.Volatility is life blood of trading and I love it.To frame your money "hard earned" is actually not constructive mindset.Proper mindset should be its a tool to make money.Yes takes money to make money hence easy hard money is irrelevant.

You should be looking to capitalize on red events and not fear it.There is certain amount of courage necessary to be become a trader.Its not for the cautious and faint of heart..Its a battle and you should be looking forward to it!
cheers

Dont know about you but I was captivated by her.What a courageous women Slapped Giuliani right on his head. I have zero hope for trade deal with China.China is going to wait out for possible (hopefully) new president Ambassador Sondland looked stright on camera and said "yes there was Quid pro quo" Trump later said Sondland "denied and said there was no Quid pro quo" Seriously is Trump the dumbest president we ever had? I mean its right there on camera!Irony of it Sondland was Trump million dollar donor fan boy...

I am sure some will say its all "fake news" seriously folks its right there in front of camera the pig with red lipstick! History will show Trump's biggest mistake was working with Giuliani besides all the other corruptions but Giuliani this guy is total lunatic.To take any advise from Giuliani is like putting your own finger on chopping board and smashing it. "Phrase tell me who your friends are and I'll tell you who you are" well anyone with brains and integrity either was fired by Trump or resigned and Trump's right man is this wacko Giuliani? advising most powerful man on earth? Can't get anymore comic.

Last week's evaluation. One of my worst.

Mistake I made. Yes it happens to me as well.. I had opportunity to get out of GC and GA prior of last week, greed was the culprit thinking it may drop more. Well it did not and end up shooting high holding my funds in DD and tight up margin and why I could not take trades even though there were great set ups.

I totally mismanaged the position. Now I am where I was prior of last week missing entire week of action.

Situation was unusual sudden fear of China trade war sent stocks way lower and commodity pairs specially CAD and AUD took beating. Constant manipulation of bad news on China trade exasperated the situation. This was the curve ball I didn't anticipate... well Mark Douglas said "anything can happen anytime"

On the positive note I am up 18% for the month so still good month but can't help wondering how proper management of my trades would of net me whole lot more. I am writing this because mistakes happen and that's trading we don't know the future and best we can do is manage the positions.

Anyway looking forward for next week. 💰👍🍿🚴

Points that I am Considering Next Week. ( EDT TIME ) We have holiday in the USA Thanksgiving & black Friday on 28th Thu So, pay attention information from central bank speak and trade headlines could rock the FX markets. USD: Fed Chairman Powell says he is 'very worried' about growing amount of US debt. He will probably speak on Monday AUD: RBA Governor Lowe speaks on Tuesday NZD: RBNZ Governor Orr delivers a press conference on the Financial Report Wednesday local time GBP:: So many risk for me. I will not trade GBP until election. Mon Nov 25...

Agree with you not trading GDP going forward until election DEC 12. USD index was pushed high last week due to China trade issues and may go into correction mode. I think EU may set the tone. Nov 19 spiked to 98.31 then dropped now at 98.27 98.50 strong Resistance good work as usual 💰🚲🍺 when you click on technicals you get the whole retail trading enchilada with all its glory. Find it amusing

<https://www.tradingview.com/symbols/EURUSD/technical/>

Note how this data does not account any fundamentals just blind mindless oscillators and MA's

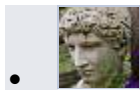

There maybe direct relationship 95% forex traders losing money following oscillators and MA's and why industry keeps propping them up. Maybe the best bait "just follow the arrow" MA's Oscillators! forget using your head forget tracing events news just follow the MA's and oscillators! 2k programs with nice arrows and bells that scammers sell on BS data. Yes I have attended one such event...did not buy.

ATM its ranging so what I do when it does I usually trade 1 direction of BO in case that happens if not get out repeat.

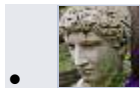

If you can nail 10 pips 3-4times that's a daily profit without much stress.Unlike lot of traders I love range trading and trend trading.Its important to have flexible approach in trading not be fixated in particular style.Its a battle and you must adapt to conditions whatever market throws at you {quote} Hi Davit, I fully agree. Thank you very much for all your input. After following your thread a while, I struggle with one thing. I know it may sound silly, but how do you analyze the fundamentals? Or better: how can I learn to analyze the fundamentals? I see what you and a lot of others doing every week. They sum up the news events for next week and take a conclusion because of that. And I feel big respect. I feel like a dummy beside you and the people who understand fundamentals... I find fundamentals very difficult. Technical analyses...

I dont think I can cover everything you asked. Try please use search function of this thread. Over the years I went over lot of material. Let me share a personal experience when I started trading I knew little about fundamentals like everyone was following some oscillators and MA's bollinger bands etc.

My real loss happened when Feds signaled to start easing and like an idiot I started buying USD and basically took my 1st 3k loss which luckily woke me up to understand how Feds and basic fundamentals effect price. Since then I made an effort to read and understand how things work.

To answer you briefly try trading AFTER the red news then you make trade decisions based on facts until you get better. Avoid trading events you dont understand until you do. I may do a video covering this plus pivots once holiday season comes since I will stop trading and will have time.

Closed GC GA

Gained 18% gave back 2% rather not hold these anymore. Done with GBP until after Brexit drama

You may be wondering how I am dealing with these losses emotionally. Nothing just 2 trades that didn't work out among hundreds that DID WORK OUT

That's it. No drama. Next trades coming. How does a restaurant deal with snow storm that keeps everyone away for days and products going waste....thousands in losses. Every business has losses. Fact of life. Zoom out look at your performance from monthly to quarterly then everything starts making sense.

Not EG but EA yes. This only matters if you hold trades past 5pm. New rule if you close before 5 you don't get charged for holding negative swap.

My fees still high... Something about Oanda... does not add up. On a positive note all these fees are going to be deducted as loss when doing my taxes

EN in S61 (w-pivot for next week) washing for short as soon reach 7185

I suggest not. Lets go over fundamentals of trading crosses we look at majors hence EU is at strong support and likely to bounce north and NU declining from upper swing heading below 64

You put those 2 together you got very low probability trade shorting EN now or 7185

{quote} IF EURNZD @ 1.71619 if nzdusd @ 0.64120 if EURUSD @ 1.10042 Yes absolutely. You're right !!!! I learned to do these accounts with you. Thank you my friend kk It is a mathematical formula. prices from: EURNZD x NZDUSD = EURUSD (1.71619 x 0.64120 = 1.10042) EURUSD / NZDUSD = EURNZD EURUSD / EURNZD = NZDUSD We're only talking about 24 pips for EURNZD to reach 1.7185 We really have to evaluate. One pair depends on another. Let's say each one moves 12 pips. So: EURUSD 1.10396 / NZDUSD (+ 12pips) 0.6424 = eurnzd (1.7185) or EURUSD (-12pips) 1.09922...

In retrospect it turned out to be good trade 💰👍 market does what it does. I am just thinking in adds.

I did take EA short 😊

The more we watch Trump presidency unfolding more you scratch your head WTF moments like abandoning Kurds after they gave 10k of their lives fighting ISIS and that's right after talking on the phone with Erdogan and you can bet he did not consult any military general or expert on his stupid decision to get out and then we got HK bill while we are trying to negotiate a trade deal with China. Does not take a genius to realize you are stabbing yourself.
This president is a train wreck.

AUD is OS and poised to rebound.Chinese can't do much retaliation of HK bill anything done may backfire 10x worse for them.They are depended on US commerce.Its a face saving measure threatening but they know HK protesters have legitimate concerns Push too hard then start seeing western companies getting out of China now imagine millions of unemployed Chinese////I am sure they wont stay quite They can threaten Chinese communist government itself.

Even if pair going to reverse, more often than not when it is that close to ADR high or low it will reach it.

I wouldn't take that trade not just because of that, but I don't sell below S38. Going against highest probabilities sure way to be in DD or loses. This method offers too many high probabilities opportunities to risk on any trade against it.

Note to all...I might justify if trade goes well. But any successful trader will say key is consistently trading your method. Don't chase after trades, let the market move to highest probability trade, then hit it big. You only need 3 or 4 good batches a month.

Example: Closed EU. Last week and this week stress free results...reached monthly goal. Small pip movement...hit big...cash in...go on with life. Repeat...

snipped.. Don't chase after trades, let the market move to highest probability trade, then hit it big.

Exactly this. It's hard to learn to sit on your hands, but these setups always come. Just watch and wait for it to come to you.

Good post. I dont either same reasons.Like you said its about being consistent in approach.To me now its more intuitive like riding a bicycle no longer thinking about it.

On broader scale I noticed my winning rate has climbing tremendously and for that I can attribute it being very keen in awareness of events.The more we are in sink with this more you are closer to market makers moves.This is why without this awareness of events you can trade any oscillator MA's and still lose money.

Its actually sad how little new traders pay attention to fundamentals and waste endless hours chasing indicators.

Anyway green pips to all Pivoters👍🍺

Hi guys

I am pleased this thread is going almost 4th year and some take a ways.

1. Trading psychology (plenty of material posted on clipboard)
- 2.Solid understanding of fundamentals/events
- 3.Pivots
- 4.Basic Price Action although I can trade Pivots now even with line chart....
- 5.Money management

When all these factors come together you are in control and I can categorically say in my experience this system is pure money making system which combines TA +Fundies a killer combo.

With that lets continue miking that cash cow

You can go on YouTube and type Pivot point trading and you'll get hundreds of videos. Almost all talk about basic idea R/S and all that jazz and what's lacking in those videos all of them any mention about Calendar events and how that can override the pivots... This is critical. I am approaching this on professional level no pro full time trader is ignorant on market news and events. This is purely retail amateurs phenomena so glued on indicators that cant even understand why price just jumped 100pips against them after GDP event....and such situations. Again being aware in trading is critical if you want to make consistent money.

You welcome! My PM is full of success stories. Traders who stuck at this now pile consistent money. Its important you focus on 1 system and master it.

There have been many here who took my system combined it with another then added more indicators and result became a mess. You can't dilute the wine with water then think its improved. Stick with it and focus. 🍀
