MTF ANALYSIS

MTF Analysis -> analysing multiple timeframe charts together

TIME IS POWER

Monthly > Weekly

Weekly > Daily

Daily > 4H

4H > 1H

1H > M15

M15 > M5

M5 > M1

M1 > 30s

30s > 15s

15s > 5s

RUNS & TRENDS

A run on a HTF is a trend on a LTF

MTF MARKET STRUCTURE

FRACTAL EXPECTATIONAL ORDERFLOW

A RUN ON A HTF IS A TREND ON A LTF

— HTF Structure
— LTF Structure

STRONG & WEAK HIGHS/LOWS

STRONG LOW = lows that caused highs (HL's)
STRONG HIGH = highs that caused lows (LH's)

MTF MARKET STRUCTURE

A RUN ON A HTF IS A TREND ON A LTF

4H
M15
M1

FRACTAL ORDERFLOW

What happens on the HTF, must first happen on the LTF

CONSISTENT ACTIONS = CONSISTENT RESULTS

Utilising a set number of timeframes for market structure is key to building consistency:

D -> HTF -> perspective

4H -> HTF -> narrative

M15 -> MTF -> immediate bias

≤M1 -> LTF-> timing entries

D -> when is the 4H trend likely to turn?

4H -> are we trading a 4H continuation or a pullback?

M15 -> confirms when 4H continuation is ending & pullback is starting (vice versa)

≤M1 -> confirms M15 turning points

Know the HTF narrative, actively monitor the LTF price action, allow the trade setup to present itself

TRADING MASTERY

4H bearish trend

Expectational Orderflow (EOF) -> 4H Lower Lows & Lower highs

To create a new 4H Lower High, the LTFs switch bullish for the 4H to pull back

When price returns to the previous 4H strong Lower High, our expectation is for price to sell off

But anything can happen!

Our mission is to observe how price develops around this area
& listen to what the market communicates to us with a neutral mindset.

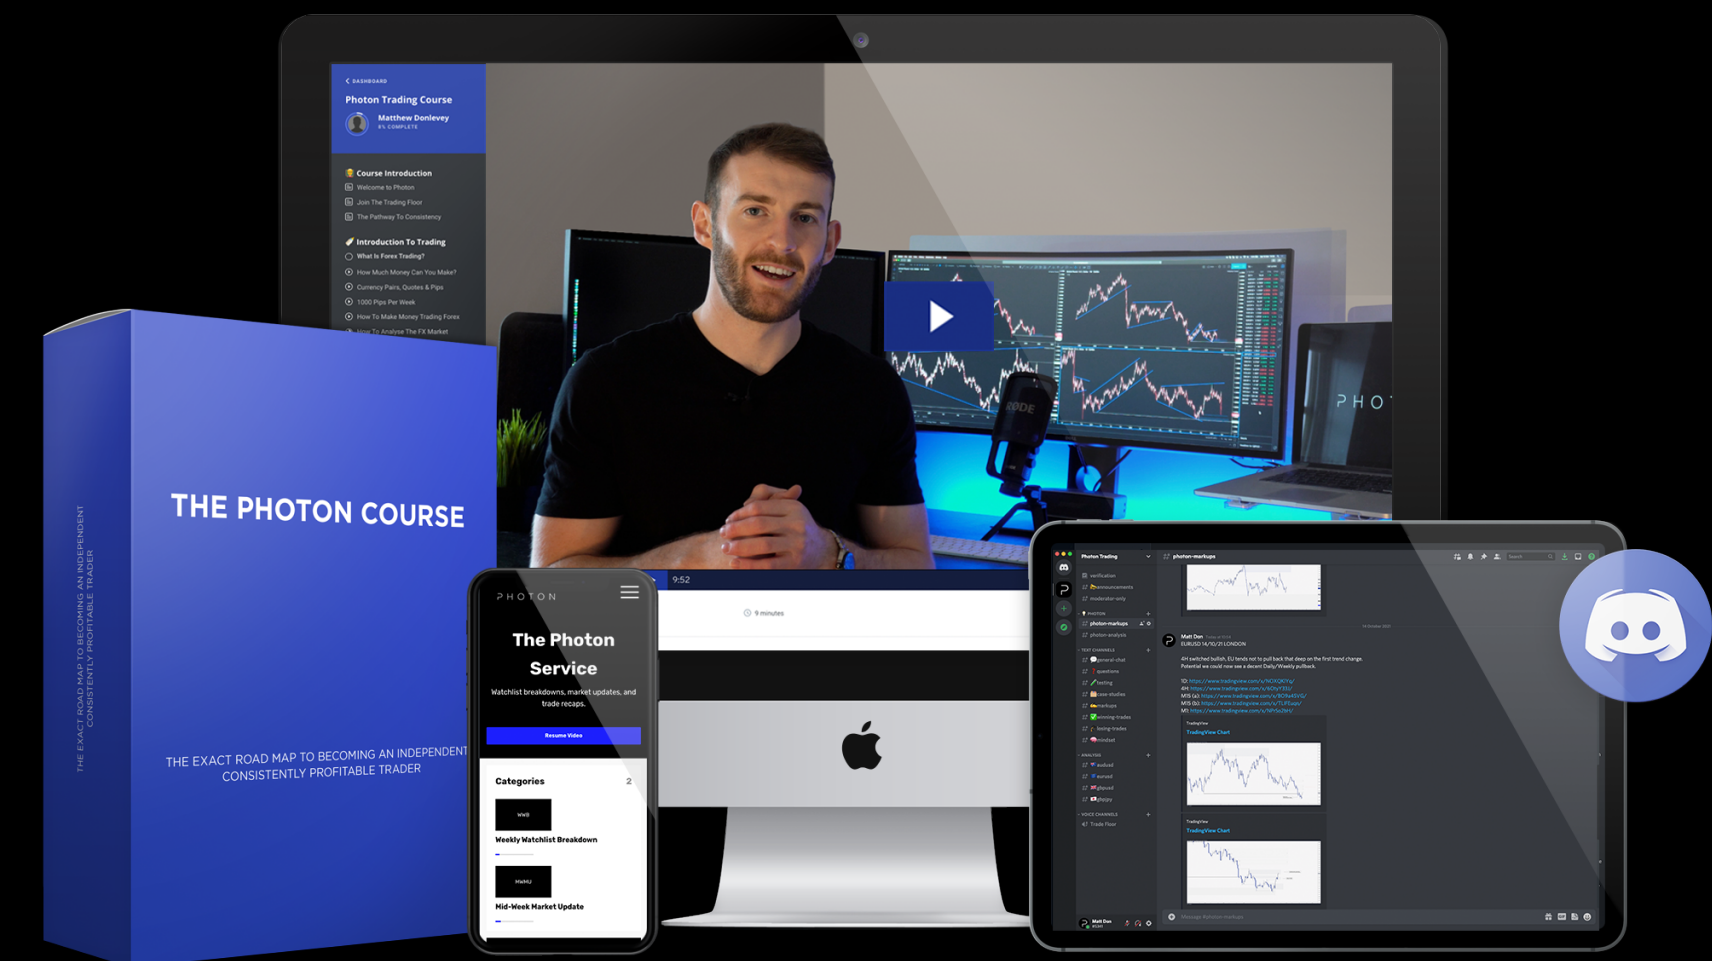

LTF structural development within HTF POI's helps guide us to be in the flow of the market & execute in harmony with the market.

It's all a mechanical framework to help guide us through the orderflow of the market
